Course Descriptions

Training Workshop "Objective Chemical Experiments"

This workshop teaches chemists and chemical engineers to design experiments and analyze data to solve or improve specific product and process problems. Class exercises are based on actual chemical examples to illuminate the types of projects students encounter in their real work. One day of the course is dedicated to mixture designs used in chemical formulations. This course uses commercial software to put to work the power of mathematical modeling. Students learn proven techniques and strategies to solve problems on any size budget. They learn to identify problems that need solving, those with a real business value, and how to tackle and solve tough problems. They will be able to measure the accuracy of their results and present findings visually, so others can easily understand. Module 1: How to Use the Five Steps for solving any Problem (1. Establish the goal 2. Develop a Strategy 3. Create a Plan 4. implement the Plan 5. Celebrate Progress) Module 2: Using a More thorough Strategy, I-Optimal Designs, and Definitive Screening Designs Module 3: Augmenting a Definitive Screening Design, Experiments with Mixtures, and Applying What you've learned.
